

Hayley & Scott

This couple tied the knot close to Woolwich Pier in Sydney, their favourite anniversary haunt and the location of Scott's proposal to Hayley.

DECISIONS, DECISIONS

By day Hayley is an events planner, but that didn't stop her toing and froing about the theme for her own nuptials. "In the end, I decided to pair Chinese ginger jars with copper accents, which wasn't something I'd seen at a wedding before," explains Hayley. "At first it was quite hard to get my hands on a lot of copper and I purchased bits and pieces like a crazy woman whenever I found something - I had everyone at work on the lookout too!" Hayley carried the copper accents and blue and white Oriental patterns through her invitations and table settings, and even had a copper-hued piñata.

SAY CHEESE

Ever since the couple had become engaged, Scott had talked about one thing: taking a selfie at the altar once he and Hayley had swapped vows. "I'd almost forgotten about it until his best man pulled out his phone and handed it to Scott," says Hayley. "In front of all of our guests we took the best selfie ever - it's our favourite photo of the day!"

GUESSING GAME

To keep their guests entertained, the couple arranged for a piano performance and a game of Hayley and Scott-themed trivia. "I organised a little questionnaire, which was placed on each table with pencils. The questionnaire asked things like, 'What will be our favourite part of the honeymoon?' and 'When do you think Hayley and Scott will have kids?'" says the bride. "Everyone then popped their cards into the piñata, which we'll crack open on our one-year anniversary." 🍻
