THE BRIDE SAYS...

THEIR STORY While in the UK for a friend's wedding Matt whisked Emma away for a four day trip to PARIS. The first night was cold and snowy and after a fabulous bistro dinner Matt proposed to Emma, much to her surprise. Following a traditional Anglican ceremony the couple and their 100 guests enjoyed Champagne and canapés on the lawns of HOPEWOOD COUNTRY HOUSE and were then seated in the conservatory for a dinner reception. "We had the most amazing time – we left the reception as our family and friends waved sparklers. We then walked to the cottage with a bottle of Champagne in hand where we sat back and shared our memories about the day" Emma recalled.

"Know what you want – it's your special day – so make sure you're happy with the decisions. I read so many blogs and kept saving images of ideas. Even if you don't use them, you work out in what direction you would like to go with all of the details. It can be incredibly daunting as to where to start, so once all the hard work is done make sure you 'switch off' and enjoy the night."
